Geoffrey Butler Architecture & Planning is known for its creative collaboration between the architect and the client and thorough exploration of building options. A Mill Valley resident, Geoff Butler has been in practice for 20 years, designing and managing high-end residential projects, commercial offices, restaurants, and retail stores primarily in Marin, San Francisco, Napa, and Sonoma counties. Project strategy begins with an evaluation of each unique site, program parameters, history, cost imperatives, and aesthetics. From there, the firm works with the client to interpret their vision in a way that creatively responds to both the project and budget requirements.
